

Three days in Edinburgh, Scotland's capital city

Steeped in history, home to a world famous arts festival and with beautiful architecture at every turn, Edinburgh is one of the world's top cities to visit. We recommend 3 nights and 3 days exploring the city by bus and on foot.

Your first day is spent in the company of a local guide on a full day private walking tour that includes lunch and entry to Edinburgh Castle. You will take in the city's classics including the Royal Mile and St Giles Cathedral as well as hidden secrets known only to local experts. The route varies according to each guide's passions and will provide a great overview and introduction Scotland's capital.

St Giles' Cathedral on the Royal Mile

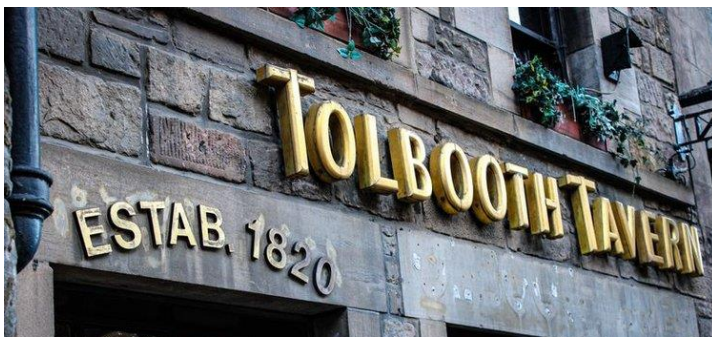

On day two use your pre-purchased Royal Edinburgh Ticket to hop on and off the tourist bus service and visit Holyrood Palace and the Royal Yacht Britannia. In a city steeped in culture and the arts take time to visit at least one of the city’s many museums. Choose from The National Museum of Scotland to smaller gems like The Writer’s Museum, or the People’s Story Museum. All are free to enter.

On day three explore the Georgian New Town which is full of restaurants and café’s and is great for shopping. You can sample Scottish food and drink at its best at Bonnie and Wild or the Tolbooth Tavern, vouchers are available to pre purchase and be tempted by the souvenirs to remind you of your visit.
